

The workshops give you the opportunity to practice French in a different context, develop new skills and meet new friends. You will participate in two different workshops in French every week. Before the beginning of the program, students will give their preferences among the different Workshops offered by putting them in order through an online form. We will assign two Workshops to each student. No changes will be possible.

Students will receive an invitation to join their workshops' Google Classrooms before the beginning of the program. The complete lists will be shared on the general Google Classroom

Workshops
Photography	Cooking
Nature and outdoor	Globetrotter
Communicate effectively

Photography

A picture is worth a thousand words but how do we make sure our message goes through? How do we create artistic work with a simple picture?

Learn technical aspects of photography, talk about the colors, discuss about the emotions behind the image and improve the quality of your pictures through exercises and special projects. Experiment, compare, evaluate, create...

Leave your mark and be part of the conception, production and editing of this workshop!

Nature and outdoor

Enjoying nature goes further than just being outdoor... Taking care of the environment and be well-prepared when you go out exploring is also important! Through this workshop:

- Explore your neighborhood and Québec's environment;
- Identify trees and plants and what's edible or not and present it to the other students;
- Learn the ABCs of camping;
- Share your ideas about how we can improve our lifestyle to reduce the impact on the environment.

Get implicated in making your city a greener space and get the best out of each of your contacts with nature. So let's breathe fresh air and take concrete steps!

Cooking

We all know that the traditions and cultures of people can be discovered in their plate! Cooking in French will be a nice start, giving you the opportunity to learn new words and technical terms. You might even discover some typical Québec food! Trying new meals is always a great experience, even more if you can enjoy that moment with others! Come share your tastes and learn tricks to be a better cook!

Globetrotter

Nowadays, people are looking for new ways to travel. Compare the different ways, reflect on the positive and negative impacts of travelling and think about what will change after the pandemia.

You are thinking about making a long trip overseas? This workshop will help you prepare yourself well to make your dream a reality!

Communicate effectively

Communication is not just about the words we use... It is also about gesture, posture, tone, flow, etc. And about listening, being open to other opinions, ask questions and be clear on your intention. It's time to focus your efforts on powerful speeches to make a real impact around you! It seems interesting, doesn't it? Within this workshop, you will work on all the aspects of communication and do special projects as preparing your own TED talk. Wanna be the next trendy TED speaker? You are at the right place!

